

Templar-

The Superfine Small Car

The Templar is superfine in quality, beautiful in appearance, light in weight, small in size and inexpensive to operate. It is luxuriously comfortable, easy to control, and most completely equipped. In fact, it is the pioneer in a field heretofore without exponent. It is the rich man's demand—quality and economy; it is the poor man's needeconomy and quality.

Templar performance exceeds every demand of the "motor wise" for flexibility, hill climbing and smooth and aconomical operation. Five-passenger touring, four-passenger sportette and two-passenger roadster. Order now for Christmas delivery.

City Is Being Cleaned Up and

Every Fire Precaution
Taken.

Memphis is cleaning up. As a precaution against fire the entire city is being renovated.

Fire prevention day found hundreds of small boys, freed from the tyraniny of the schoolroun, drafted into the spirit of the day set aside by Gov. Rye. In accretance with President, Wiscon's request that the nation do its utmost to avoid fires that annually cost the country militors of dollars and thousands of lives.

It is quite probable that some plan may be evolved whereby the time lost by the closing will be made up at the end of the term.

Joe Barretto is in jail, charged with the theft of seven cases of tobacco, said to have been stolen from a Frisco railroad boxcar. Thursday Sheriff Perry and his deputies went to Barretto's place on the Pigeon Roost road on a tip that the man was bootlegging whisky. A search of the premises failed to show any liquor, but the tobacco was found. Barretto failed to made a satisfactory explanation and the sheriff confiscated the tobacco. Employes of the Frisco identified the tobacco as part of a shipment stolen from the boxcar, and Sheriff Perry late Friday sent word to Barretto to come to his office. On his arrival he was arrested and locked up.

M'CALLUM BACK IN MEMPHIS MOTORDOM

Two features mark the reorganization of the $16 Tire and Vulcanizing company. They are the reappearance of M. M. McCallum in Memphis motor circles and the disappearance of the name "Navarra" from commercial life. McCallum, who after two years as Firestone products representative in Memphis, engaged in the automobile business in Greenwood, Miss., returns to this city as manager of the new firm. In reorganizing the new directors dropped the name "Navarra" and adopted that of "Bi6" exclusively. The new management promises its customers superior road and plant service at all times.

WILLIAMS CAPTAIN IN TRANSPORT CORPS

W. L. Williams, manager of the White company for the central Southern department, has just received his commission as captain in the motor transport corps and has been ordered to Canny Jesup, Georgia. He will leave Memphis within 10 days.

Capt. Williams is prominent among the automobile profession in the city, and it will be a source of regret to them that he will not be numbered longer as a member of the Automobile association of Memphis. Capt. Williams is a member of the Tennessee and Rotary clubs and of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Williams has been an untiring worker in the Red Cross.

The home of Capt. and Mrs. Williams is 1328 Carr avenue. Before coming to Memphis their home was Sandersville, Ga. In the dissification of registrants Capt. Williams was placed in class 4A, but feeling that his country needed men in the motor transport service, after visiting several camps, he decided that it was his duty to enlist. He has given up a very profitable position and promising career to render ald to his country.

PRODUCING RESULTS CAPT. WELLES ORDERS RESUMPTION DRILLING

Capt. H. C. Weiles, commanding Junior Marine Scouts in Memphis, has issued this general order, No. 16:
All companies of Junior Marine Scouts will resume drilling, beginning Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1918. Company commanders will arrange to continue work where same was interrupted by the recent epidemic.

Noncommissioned officers' school will be resumed at marine recruiting station, Odd Fellows' building, Monday and Thursday nights, as formerly.
